Host Institution – Kenyatta University

Kenyatta University was founded in 1985 and is the second oldest public university in Kenya. The University strives to be a dynamic, inclusive and competitive centre of excellence in teaching, learning, research and service to humanity. The institution is deeply committed to upholding the responsibility that comes with its rich history and promising future. Being public, KU has always been accessible. Our students who hail from diverse backgrounds both locally and internationally continue to enjoy and be enriched by all that KU offers including a world-class library, well-equipped laboratories, art, sports and the impressive Chandaria Business Innovation and Incubation Centre, where young entrepreneurs with innovative projects are nurtured to scale up their ideas into viable spin-off companies.

2015 Goals

- To engage stake holders from multiple disciplines in joining the EIM movement in Kenya
- To raise the awareness of the EIM Kenya National Center and the importance of physical activity promotion, particularly through the healthcare system
- To begin preparations for the launch of an EIM National Center in Kenya during the 2016 Physical Activity and Sports for Health and Development in Africa (PASHDA) Conference

Past Accomplishments

- The EIM Kenya National Task Force is in the process of pulling together key stakeholders within the country to determine an Advisory Board and finalize a memorandum of understanding with the American College of Sports Medicine in establishing an official EIM National Center in 2015.
