

Add years to your life one step at a time.

Just 150 minutes of exercise a week reduces your risk of death by treating and preventing heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes, stroke, and more.

Learn more about the health benefits of exercise at www.exerciseismedicine.org.

Support for the Exercise is Medicine® Global Initiative is Provided By:

